Byron Man Victim of Ogle's Seventh Fatal Crash in '41

Harry Gale Killed, His Wife Injured, When Car Crashes Tree

(Telegraph Special Service)
Oregon, Oct. 15.—Harry A. Gale, 28, a Rockton tavern owner, was killed and his wife, Ada, 29, seriously injured late yesterday afternoon when their automobile crashed into a tree on U. S. highway 64 at the western edge of this city.

Arthur Harmon, 33, also of Rockton, was riding with the Gales and escaped with cuts and bruises. He was dismissed from Warmolts Clinic this morning.

The accident occurred at 5:10 p. m. and Gale died at 6:40 in the Warmolts clinic from chest and internal injuries. Mrs. Gale, who suffered a broken collar bone and hip fracture, is in a serious condition.

Year's 7th Fatality
When the crash occurred, the Rockton residents were returning from Mt. Morris where they had been on business. Near the outskirts of the city the automobile left the highway and crashed into a tree in front of the John Dexter home.

Sheriff James White, Deputy James Todd, assisted by Police Officer Victor Westendorf, investigated the accident.

It was the seventh highway fatality in Ogle county this year.

Gale was born Feb. 6, 1913 at Byron, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gale. His parents and a brother, Ellsworth and a sister, Lenora, all of Rockford, survive.

Heavy Rainfall Halts Shipment of Water

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Rainfall totaling 1.52 inches in 24 hours, the largest in several months, at least temporarily halted water shipments from Evansville, Ind., to this city today.

W. H. Gott, superintendent of the Illinois-Iowa Power company here, said approximately 15 days water supply had been obtained as the result of the downpour.

Because of a water shortage, 119 railroad cars of water had been shipped here since Sunday night.

Nazis Swarm Forward Over Dead Comrades in Their March on Moscow

Red Army's Organ Admits Capital Is In Danger

(By The Associated Press)
A fiercely-driven new menace to Moscow was acknowledged today by the Red army, which declared the Germans were swarming forward over their own heaped dead in a mighty attempt to turn the capital's Volga river defense flank near Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow.

Admitting that the Nazi masses of men and steel still surged forward, Red Star, organ of the Soviet army, said nevertheless that German parachutists seeking a foothold behind the Russian lines had been wiped out and that Moscow's grim defenders had pinched off wedges thrust deep into their lines.

Some of the parachutists were said to have been trapped behind the Kalinin line where armored units had smashed to the approaches of the city.

Directly west of Moscow, other German forces were reported in London to have rolled half way from Vyazma toward the capital, and to the south the German press said the munitions-making town of Tula, 100 miles from Moscow, had fallen to the tightening Nazi semi-circle.

The Germans declared that the mop-up after the gigantic encirclement battles of Bryansk and Vyazma was so nearly completed that vast additional forces—perhaps hundreds of thousands of troops—were being released and rushed on east to bolster the big push on the capital itself.

Moscow's streets were crowded as all of its population not needed for fighting or war work streamed

Voted Wanted
Champaign, Ill., Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Champaign American Legion post, No. 24, was on record today as urging its national organization to conduct a referendum on the foreign relations policies recently approved at the national convention in Milwaukee.

A resolution adopted at a meeting last night stated "only a fraction of the delegates" were present and voting on policies "which are completely contrary to every previous expression of the members."

It added: "The national organization of the American Legion has taken undue authority in presenting such changes without due consent of the members."

Sun's Radiation Important Key to Long Range Weather Forecasting

Pasadena, Calif., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Dr. Irving Krick has determined that the variation in the sun's radiation provides an important key to long range weather forecasting.

He uses a curve of solar heat variations which Dr. Charles G. Abbott of the Smithsonian Institution is now able, after 30 years of study, to plot with fair accuracy a year in advance.

Dr. Krick, California Institute of Technology weather expert, only recently announced the discovery that weather follows certain patterns which are repeated with variations, at long intervals.

Now he says he has found that these patterns are influenced by the amount of heat which reaches the earth in certain areas. This must bring satisfaction to Dr. Abbott, now 69, for his long studies of the total amount and

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Moscow's real danger has been increased still further by the launching of a violent Nazi attack against the big industrial city of Kalinin, which lies only ninety-five miles northwest of the capital on the main Leningrad-Moscow railway where that line cuts the river Volga.

This means that the Germans are attempting to hammer open this gateway through the important bulwark which the great river affords the capital. The fall of Kalinin would create a grave position for the defense.

At the same time the Germans claim to have captured Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow. Thus the attacking Nazi crescent before the beleaguered metropolis continues to draw tighter and reach out its encircling arms like a great octopus.

The Reds are defending their ground stubbornly. Meanwhile the much publicized weather finally is giving them some relief. Berlin itself today admits that bad weather and the mud developed from the snow and sleet are impeding operations and from now on will be the greatest enemy of the Nazi soldiers.

The fighting is furious, and reports indicate that the loss of life is terrific. I can't get out of my mind the Berlin story that in one sector the Nazi troops drove over the bodies of Red soldiers who fell as they advanced in lines fifteen

Blame Searchlight for Death of Four

Manila, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Four Army airmen were killed in the crash of their medium bomber at Clark field in Pampanga province during anti-aircraft practice last night.

Second Lieutenant Rexford R. Kinsley, from Evanston, Ill., the pilot, evidently was blinded by searchlights and lost control of his plane, army official said. He was a son of Philip Kinsley, veteran member of the Chicago Tribune staff.

Others killed were Private Robert C. Fankhouser, 22, son of Albert F. Fankhouser, of Des Plaines, Ill.; Clarence A. Drapich, 21, of Eureka, Calif.; and Francis Brouillette, 22, of Newtonville, Mass.

The bomber and the bodies were almost unrecognizable.

Greer Hunting U-Boat: Fired On

Navy Ready to Put Guns and Crews on Merchant Vessels

Sec. Knox Makes State- ment as House Gets Repealer Measure

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Secretary Knox today that the navy was ready to put guns and gun crews on merchant ships "as fast as the ships come to us" once Congress authorizes such action.

Knox spoke as the house rules committee granted parliamentary right of way to legislation lifting the neutrality act's ban against arming the ships. Earlier the foreign affairs committee approved the proposal.

"We're satisfied now we can get enough guns to arm the ships," Knox told a press conference.

The navy secretary explained that while there were not enough guns immediately on hand to arm all ships at once, guns would be available as rapidly as ships could be brought into port to receive them.

He asserted also that the arming of merchantmen was a highly effective method of protecting them against both aerial and submarine raiders.

He said that had been the experience of the British already in this war, that armed British cargo ships had shot down a "large number of Nazi planes, and that submarines had been placed at a great disadvantage by being forced to keep under the surface rather than risk being fired upon by a prospective victim."

Under the special rule granted for consideration of the measure, the debate will run throughout tomorrow's session and for one hour on Friday. Leaders said they expected the house would pass the repealer will before midnight of that day.

Chairman Bloom (D-N.Y.) of the house foreign affairs committee estimated on the basis of naval testimony that there were about 1,200 ships altogether that would need arms and that it would take about three months to do the job.

Knox was asked what guns might be placed on American ships and replied that they probably would be 3-or 4-inch weapons on small vessels and 5-inch types on larger ones. These could equal or outshoot the deck guns of around 3 inches carried on German subs, it was said at the navy.

Some of the guns placed on American ships, Knox related, probably would be capable of both surface and anti-aircraft action. Others probably would be surface weapons only, but would be supplemented by short range anti-aircraft guns such as 50 caliber guns.

"Dealing With Piracy"
Under international law, Knox said, an armed merchant ship is subject to attack by a belligerent war vessel but the war vessel still is responsible for protecting the merchantman's crew. In the present war, however, he said, this country is not faced with a question of law, "but what we're dealing with now in this type of war Germany is carrying on, is sheer piracy."

Knox said that normally a submarine attacking an unarmed merchantman would come to the surface and fire with its deck gun in order to save torpedoes. Instances have been reported in this war, he said, in which German U-boats came up in the center of Arming ships, he continues.

British Skipper Praises Strength of Plane Carrier

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—(AP)—"In England they make things to last and this old girl has lasted."

Thus proudly proclaimed Captain Arthur George Talbot upon bringing the aircraft carrier Furious—grand old lady of the British fleet—into port for a face lifting and well-earned rest for the 1,300 officers and men who guided the battle relic of yesteryear through the worst that modern warfare could offer.

"She's done more for her age than any other," declared the skipper as he relaxed and related meanderings of his battered charge.

Laid down 26 years ago as a special cruiser, the Furious played a deadly part in the first World war by destroying the Zeppelin works at Tondern, later was converted into an aircraft carrier and is living up to her name in the present conflict while sister ships Glorious and Courageous have gone down.

130,000 Miles
Since taking up her war station in 1939, the 24,000-ton battle wagon with 33 aircraft has steamed 130,000 miles from the Equator to within a few hundred miles of the North Pole—from east of Suez to Philadelphia.

"The Furious," said Talbot, "took on the whole German air force in the Norwegian campaign while protecting troops operating there until the Glorious was brought up to assist. At that time she launched the first large scale aerial torpedo attack in history. Bombed incessantly, she beat off all attacks, her guns firing hundreds of rounds until they got so hot they had to cease."

Temporary repairs sent the old lady back to her hunting grounds in gold to Halifax and returned for a load of American aircraft, bombs and other warlike stores.

Henderson Orders Cut In Auto Production
Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Leon Henderson, OPM civilian supply director, today ordered a reduction of "at least" 51 percent in passenger automobile production in January, 1942, compared with the January, 1941 output.

The slash, together with others previously ordered to conserve defense materials, means an overall reduction of at least 36.3 percent in passenger car production for the first six months of the model year which began August 1.

Henderson emphasized that the January quota, which permits a maximum output of 204,848 cars compared with 418,350 produced in January, 1941, could not be guaranteed to the industry since sufficient materials might not be available.

Difficulties in obtaining steel, especially strip steel, indicated that production actually would fall below the maximum set, he said.

Opposition to aiding Soviet Russia was voted by 90.1 percent.

Two questions were asked of the 34,616 clergy on the mailing list.

"Do you favor the United States engaging in a shooting war outside the western hemisphere?" Of the 13,155 replying, 12,038 said "No."

"Are you in favor of the United States aiding the communist Russian government?" To this 11,860 replied "No."

Cardinals, Archbishops, bishops and army and navy chaplains were not polled.

Official Story of Shooting Clash Is Released by Navy

U. S. Destroyer Put on Trail of Submarine by British Plane

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The navy's official account of the shooting clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a German submarine disclosed today that a report from a British patrol plane put the destroyer on the trail of the U-boat.

It also flatly contradicted the German claim that the Greer started dumping depth bombs on the submarine more than two hours before the U-boat commander loosed his first torpedo.

The navy stated that the torpedo was fired first, and eight minutes later the first depth charges went over the Greer's side.

The report on the encounter in the North Atlantic was made public last night by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) of the senate naval committee, which requested the information from Navy Secretary Knox.

It was submitted in the form of a statement by Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, who accompanied it with answers to a series of questions propounded by the committee with reference to the incident.

The matter-of-fact recital gave this running story of the encounter:

On Sept. 4 the Greer was ploughing along en route to Iceland with U. S. mail, passengers and some freight. She was 175 miles southwest of the island and "directly in the path of communication between American ports and Iceland"—a lane which President Roosevelt specifically ordered the navy on July 7 to keep "free of all hostile activity or threat thereof."

At 8:40 a. m. a British plane notified the Greer that a submarine was submerged 10 miles ahead directly on the course the destroyer was following.

The Greer immediately crowded on speed and zigzagged her way to the location reported. At 9:20, five minutes after reaching the vicinity, the destroyer's underwater sound detection equipment picked up the propeller beat of the submerged U-boat and started to trail it, broadcasting the submarine's position.

This, said Stark, "was in accordance with her orders, that is, to give out information but not to attack."

No further assistance, meanwhile, came from the patrol plane. However, at 10:32 the plane dropped four depth charges which missed their mark on the U-boat, and twenty minutes later withdrew from the hunt.

Kept U-Boat Ahead
The Greer clung tenaciously to the trail of its quarry for 3 hours and 23 minutes, always maneuvering to keep the U-boat ahead of it.

Then at 12:40 p. m. the game of hide-and-seek became grimmer—the submarine changed course and

Ousted Panama President Now Locked in Jail

Panama, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Dr. Arnulfo Arias, ousted president of Panama, reached Panama early today and was locked up in the city jail after surrendering to Panama police in the Canal Zone.

Five vans filled with police met the special motor railway car in which Dr. Arias journeyed to the capital from Christobal where he had surrendered from aboard the steamer Cefalu.

As the motorcade left the railway station, the ousted president stuck his head out of a window and shouted: "Viva Panama!" (Long live Panama!)

Dr. Arias flew to Cuba on Tuesday, Oct. 7. A new government, with Ricardo Adolfo De La Guardia as president, took the helm in a peaceful coup d'etat and immediately pledged cooperation with the United States in defense matters.

Arias' flight had followed by a day his issuance of an order against arming of merchantmen under the Panama flag.

Returned Voluntarily
The deposed president, returning voluntarily, reached the Canal Zone early yesterday but it was not until shortly before midnight that he stepped onto the pier at Christobal to surrender to Rogelio Fabrega, new Panama national police chief.

Earlier the De La Guardia government had announced it would permit him to take up exile in neighboring Costa Rica.

Whether a plan to allow him to leave for Costa Rica later this morning would be adhered to was not immediately clear as the former president was whisked away to jail.

World's Greatest Steel Mill Facing Shutdown by C. I. O.

Organizing Drive By Union Threatens to Stop Defense Work

Gary, Ind., Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Steel Workers Organizing Committee (CIO) started peaceful picketing of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's Gary works today with the object of inducing every employe to become a union employe in good standing.

John Mayerik, president of the Gary SWOC unit, had ordered pickets to keep from the mill beginning with the 4 a. m. shift this morning every worker who did not have a union card showing his dues paid up but non-union men were allowed to enter the plant after union officials agreed with Federal Judge John W. Slick in South Bend that no force would be used.

A petition by non-union men asking a restraining order against picketing of the Gary plant was withdrawn after conference with Judge Slick today. Harry Sharavsky of Gary, attorney for the non-union men, said the petition would be refilled should violence result.

This factory, with a force of 22,000, the world's largest and busy with defense production, is the biggest of three owned by Gary United States Steel Corporation subsidiaries which employ 35,000 persons. These plants lately have been turning out steel products estimated to amount to 100,000 tons a week.

Aimed at "Big Steel"
Frank Girder, the union's Gary sub-district director, said the object of the picketing was to make the Gary works "100 per cent CIO" in a step toward the union shop, in which every new employe would be required to join the SWOC throughout "Big Steel."

The 170 men on the police force of this city of 112,000 population had assignments from Chief William J. Linn to be on the job when picketing began.

Union leaders said it was their plan to allow enough workers into the plant to operate departments which supply the city with gas and the downtown section with electricity.

The Gary works was closed two days at the start of last week because 39 SWOC rankmen stopped work to protest against layoffs.

Federal Union Active
Since Thursday, Hugh Gormley of Indianapolis, an AFL organizer, has been signing up steel workers in a Federal union. He predicted he would have 2,000 applications by Saturday.

The Carnegie-Illinois sheet and tin plate mill, employing 11,000, has been closed twice and the American Bridge Company, hiring 1,800, once this month by labor trouble.

Indiana Schoolman New Manager State Boys' Institutions

Gov. Green Names Gary
Man to School Near
St. Charles

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 15.—(AP)—An Indiana school official, Russell W. Ballard of Gary, will head the state training school for boys near St. Charles under the Green administration's reorganization program.

Ballard's appointment as managing officer, effective Nov. 1, was announced by Gov. Green last night. He will replace Dr. H. B. Knowles, acting managing officer since William T. Harmon's resignation July 15.

The governor said Ballard was chosen from a field of 46 candidates throughout the nation and was recommended by state Welfare Director Rodney Brandon as well as a citizens committee headed by Prof. Harrison B. Dobbs of the University of Chicago.

The 47-year-old appointee was a school principal in East Chicago, Ind., for 11 years and since 1936 has been director of the Lake county, Ind., department of public welfare which he organized. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

He will be assisted by Harold E. Johnson of Decatur and Richard Eddy, formerly of the University of Chicago.

To Emphasize Study
In Gary, Ballard said last night emphasis would be placed upon individual study of the young inmates of the school and upon application of proper treatment.

The school "is primarily an educational institution," he stated. "If it were merely a custodial or penal institution I would not be interested. There is opportunity there for rehabilitation and great good. But miracles must not be expected. I know that the problems of many of those boys are deep seated. Those problems must be brought into the open and analyzed."

Ballard asserted the greatest care would be exercised in selecting the boys to be sent to the Sheridan branch of the school in LaSalle county with its barred cells and high steel fences. Positive evidence will be required before committing an inmate there, he said.

Green said the personnel at the training school had been expanded in recent weeks and full time directors of education and recreation appointed.

Co. A on Maneuvers

By PFC. JAMES W. KLINE

The maneuvers ended officially at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 28 and we got a small idea of the joy that war-weary soldiers must have felt on November 11, 1918. For after many tiring marches and the monotony of setting up and breaking camp for short periods, Company A finally got into the thick of the fight.

Packs were rolled at 6 o'clock that Sunday morning and we were moved in trucks from Grand Cane, Louisiana, going south, deep in enemy territory, rolling down a narrow road in a battalion column. There had been so much talk about going to Shreveport, and a rest camp in the state park, that we were surprised but ready when the lead truck met a Blue motor patrol of two weapons carriers and sixteen men. Our men in the first two trucks immediately deployed in a field alongside the road and advanced under fire to a point where the umpires ruled that we had attained superiority. The remaining men came up from the rear and the company was quickly reassembled and advanced six hundred yards to form a skirmish line along a highway. The purpose of our unit was to maintain a delaying action against mobile enemy forces. We were no sooner set up and camouflaged before an armored half-track scout car led by two armed motorcycles came down the road and as we blazed away at them the umpire ruled them our prisoners. After a short lull our left flank was attacked and we were forced to withdraw. An armored column of Blue forces advanced into our crossfire capturing two of our machine gun squads and one rifle squad. The skirmish line was maintained, but we were outnumbered and the withdrawal was continued until our trucks were reached again. From this point each platoon worked separately setting up defensive positions. They kept us on the go continually and there were many battles. We lost forty-five men as prisoners and on telling how many casualties, had the blanks been real ammunition. When the news finally came that the war was over, the Blues and Reds, took off their arm bands, traded regimental crests and shot thousands of rounds of blanks into the air.

Without fear of contradiction, all are agreed that the man who won the war was General George C. Marshall. We just played hard at a game we had pointed for, and win or lose, it was a wonderful experience for all of us.

When men are thrown together under trying conditions, many unforeseen qualities spring up in each personality. When the going was really tough, our men, with very few exceptions, buckled down and saw each job through to the end. Each bond of friendship developed greater, a mighty team, to protect and preserve, wherever the ramparts we watch.

We entered from Grand Cane on October 1, at 9 a. m. and rode ninety miles to Ruston, La. Laid over till Friday, October 3 and then rode eighty miles and camped in a persimmon grove at Hampton, Ark. Left the next morning at 7:30 and rode until noon to Pine Bluff, Ark. The friendly people of this city of 30,000 entertained the soldiers of both brigades of infantry of the Third Division, Saturday night and Sunday.

We Yankees have really learned about southern hospitality in these past two months.

We left in trucks again at 7 o'clock Monday morning and recrossed the Mississippi at Memphis, Tenn. At 5 p. m. we made our last encampment at Somerville, Tenn. and left the next morning at 5:30 for Tullahoma.

So once again it is Company A at Camp Forrest, and a fifteen day furlough for each soldier, to return home, better physically and in high spirits, to tell of the many camp fires that will never die out.

Government Buys Dairy Products; Users Pay More

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Keen competition between domestic consumers and Uncle Sam for dairy products was contributed to a 14 per cent advance in fluid milk prices for most city users during the past three months, the agriculture department reported today.

Government purchases of cheese and evaporated and dried milk are being made for shipment to Great Britain under the lend-lease program.

The department reported today that three-fourths of the 110 city markets which regularly report have raised prices either to producers or consumers, or both, during the past 90 days.

The October retail average of 25 representative cities was 13.74 cents a quart over the September average, and about 1.75 cents a quart, or 14 per cent, over October average of last year.

The highest price reported was 17 cents at Charleston, S. C. The lowest was 11 cents in a number of midwestern cities.

The sharp competition for milk is reflected, the department said, in the fact that during the first eight months of this year the production of evaporated milk and American Cheddar cheese—two products needed in large quantities for shipment to Britain—increased 14 and 18.4 per cent, respectively, over the corresponding output of 1940.

Thiede Exhibit Opens Tomorrow at Grand Detour

The first exhibition of the 1941-42 season in the Frederick J. Garner studio at Grand Detour will open a two-week showing tomorrow. On view will be a collection of recent water color paintings by Henry A. Thiede of Evanston.

These pictures are unconventional interpretations of middle-west subjects, gathered in most part, from the vicinities of the Rock and Fox rivers. Most of them are being shown for the first time.

Although quite individual in composition and in technique, none of the exhibit is apt to mystify and puzzle the beholder, yet that indefinable "something left to the imagination" is carefully preserved. It is fair to say that the artist has struck an unusual note, and that his work merits high rating among contemporary aquarellists.

As an exhibiting artist, Mr. Thiede is not a newcomer, but until a few years ago, his offerings comprised chiefly drawings, etchings and illustrations. Lately however, his time has been largely devoted to attaining facility in using water colors.

Last year, numerous groups were welcomed to the Garner studio shows. Now again, those interested in art, including clubs and other groups, are invited to set a day for a visit, by mailing a card giving the date when they can come, to Frederick J. Garner, P. O. Dixon, Ill.

From 2 until 4 o'clock yesterday, a number of invited guests gathered for a preview showing of the Thiede collection.

A Thought For Today

Receive thy sight, thy faith hath saved thee.—Luke 18:42.

Deem not life a thing of consequence. For look at the yawning void of the future, and at that other limitless space, the past.—Marcus Aurelius.

Dual Citizenship

It would probably be a fine thing if the world were such that national borders could be less rigid than they are. A man is first of all a man, a member of the human race, and there should be no finer title than that of "citizen of the world."

Some day this may come. It has not come as yet. For the past 50 years the tendency has been the other way, toward raising and tightening the barriers between one country and another.

It would be plain suicide for any country, in this world of ultra-nationalism run riot, to let down those barriers when others will not. And to allow breaches in our own barriers to be regularly used as channels for flooding subversive influences into the country is simply stupid.

Most Americans probably do not know even the meaning of the term "dual citizenship." In our simplicity, we always assume that to be a citizen of our country means undivided loyalty to this country and to this country alone. Because Americans generally have this simple, uncomplicated view of the matter, very few of them ever become naturalized citizens of another country. They feel the finality of the step, knowing that they would render the same undivided loyalty to a new country that they paid to their own.

Not all countries or people take this view. There are several countries recognizing "dual citizenship." That is, they permit their nationals to go to another country and become citizens there, yet retaining a claim on their loyalty to the homeland. Many people of Japanese, German and Italian origin, for instance, are dual citizens of this country and of their homeland. Germans coming to Mexico, and other Latin countries, freely take out citizenship there, never assuming for an instant that this alters their relationship to the homeland.

Secretary of War Stimson has proposed legislation to eliminate complications arising from such "dual citizenship." He says he has evidence that advantages gained by such a system have been used to facilitate spy work. His bill would provide that any national considered under the laws of another country be a subject of that other country may be required to appear before a U. S. commissioner and either renounce United States citizenship or formally renounce any allegiance elsewhere. Refusal would subject the national to deportation.

As long as national citizenship is a recognized and apparently necessary institution, it must mean all or nothing. Other countries may tolerate or even encourage in their laws such divided loyalties. There is no room for them here. American citizenship either means undivided and unreserved loyalty to America, or it means nothing at all. This bill is worth congress' earnest attention.

Guard Against Fires!

This is the season of the year when most of the country is enjoying the beauty of autumn woods, the time when the hunters stumble over each other and occasionally shoot one another in lieu of deer or rabbits.

It is also the time when any one of these autumn excursionists by a carelessly-tossed match or cigarette can cause millions of dollars worth of damage. Many sections of the country have had unusual dry spells; in such a dry spell last spring, 1,302,430 acres of forest were burned over through carelessness.

Enjoy nature, but don't get so familiar as to try to give her a hot-foot.

Babying Babies

Another cycle seems to be swinging around to full circle. It's the baby-care cycle.

A generation ago it was the regular thing to coddle, kiss, bounce, rock, squeeze and generally fondle all babies. Then came a sterner regime. It was found that kisses spread germs, bouncing disturbed stomachs, and over-affection generally discombobulated the infant interior. So babies were reared for a while under a Spartan don't-touch, don't-kiss, don't-baby-the-baby regime.

Now a New York psychiatrist has discovered that a baby insufficiently "mothered" may develop "behavior disorders" and "neurotic conflicts." Well, science was bound to catch up with grandma some time.

Four Thousand Gazers

There must have been a lot of gazing done when 4,000 professional crystal-ball gazers met in a fortune-teller's convention in Tokio. If the whole lot of them, gazing steadfastly and in concert, were able to see anything good for Japan in the policies that shattered the peace of the world by the invasion of Manchuria in 1931, they saw something that isn't visible to the naked eye.

What Japan needs right now is not people capable of seeing directly through a large and very opaque eight-ball.

Production of smokeless powder in government plants increased 66% in six weeks. What this country needs is more smokeless smoke from all plants.

Maybe it's a good idea to elect men with large families as U. S. representatives. They should pick up things quickly in the house.

Even if a hurricane does comparatively little damage, it's still quite a blow.

The folks who criticize our young people now were being criticized themselves twenty years ago.

Pull opens the door to success on but rare occasions—so we'd suggest using push.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Oct. 14.—It seems Speaker Sam Rayburn was the main one who whittled Mr. Roosevelt's new drive for amendment of the neutrality act into a single spearhead—a proposal merely to arm American merchant ships.

The speaker and congressional associates talked the president out of trying to repeal the whole act and open up the war zones now blacked out for American ships—or nearly. The president is carrying forward the undertone suggestion toward that end in his message, but abided by Rayburn's advice and is refraining from pressing it hard.

F. D. R. privately takes the position that the ship-arming is an immediate problem, but that his unstressed point of clearing away the combat zone is far more important. Eight congressional leaders found that out when they were invited to the White House conference last week. No agreement was reached at that conference because of the absence from town of Speaker Rayburn and House Leader McCormick. Next day they came in and strongly disagreed with the president's intention.

It is more than probable Rayburn still remembers too vividly the scare he and the other administration leaders got when the draft extension bill passed by only one vote. The condition of administration morale in the house required a spanking victory for Roosevelt next time, certainly not another hazardous undertaking.

A check-over in advance showed the ship arming idea would provide just what was needed.

The president therefore was content to leave his major idea as a mole in the ground. You may next see it arise in the senate. If the political situation there is found to be auspicious, the reopening of the seas idea will be nailed on as an amendment.

The question of the practical advantage of arming American ships is still open. Experience in the last war (as far as available naval records show) developed no instance in which a merchant ship ever sank a submarine. For this reason, it is possible Roosevelt's "shoot first" program may be criticized as a "get shot first" development in practical application. However, Roosevelt's position is that the arming will keep the Nazi subs below surface and hinder their aim.

A superior consideration that has swayed the minds of a congressional majority to Roosevelt's recommendation, however, is that the steps he has already taken on his own initiative make arming an obvious follow-up step. If our war vessels are to shoot first as ordered, the arming of our merchantmen becomes a comparatively minor matter. Their safety in the face of that policy necessitates whatever protection can be afforded, effective or not.

Note.—Incidentally Roosevelt has made up his mind Hitler will never declare war on us, no matter how far he goes. He mentioned that in both congressional conferences.

Behind Nazi economic minister Funk's brag that Russian industry had been annexed was more truth than is customary in Nazi declarations—about 50 per cent.

Hitler's slowly creeping hordes have grasped about half of all Russian iron concentrated in the area around the Dnieper river between Odessa and Kiev. Over half the Red coal is now almost completely within the Nazi clutch in the district between Rostov and Kharkov. The Donets and Don basins are doomed. Of the two main railroads going from the industrial and coal area in the south to Moscow, one is already cut.

No official here is taking a pessimistic attitude on these Red setbacks. Pessimism seems to have been forbidden, for fear of offending Moscow.

The plain truth is, however, that the series of Red defeats is realistically regarded, in general, as serious, but not necessarily fatal.

The Red government has been ready for some time to move from Moscow at a moment, although the escape no doubt will be concealed for as long a time as possible after it has taken place.

removed to the hospital to submit to an operation. James Blackburn, driver for the Watts taxi service, fell down the steps of the barn Friday evening and suffered two broken ribs.

MRS. CHARLES WILLIFORD
Martha Walker Williford was born in Danbridge, Tennessee, February 16th, 1884, and passed away at her home in Dixon, Illinois, early Sunday morning, October 12th, 1941, after an illness so brief and unexpected that the news of her death was a tragic surprise to all who knew her.

Mrs. Williford was the daughter of James and Ellen Walker and was reared and educated in her home town of Danbridge, Tennessee. It was here also that she married her husband, Charles M. Williford, on March 1st, 1908. To this union was born one child, Mary Ruth, who, together with the husband, survive her.

In the year 1917 the Willifords moved to Sterling, Illinois, where they resided for two years. They then moved to Dixon, Illinois, where they have resided ever since.

Upon arrival in Dixon the Willifords joined the First Methodist church and it is in this relationship that Mrs. Williford was best known and loved. She was a faithful and efficient worker in the church and often went beyond her strength in attempting to accomplish the various tasks that she had cheerfully assumed.

For nine years she served as the efficient president of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the church and for four years she served as president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. In the former Ladies Aid society and in the present Woman's Society of Christian Service she held important positions and served well. She was also active in the Woman's Bible class of the Sunday school and for two years served as its president.

Mrs. Williford established a large circle of contact and interest in the community by being an active member of the Dixon Woman's Club and by manifesting a keen interest in the cultural things of community life.

Besides her husband and daughter, she leaves to mourn her departure an aged mother and a sister, Josie, of Danbridge, Tennessee, several more distant relatives and a great host of friends. Her father, a brother and a sister preceded her in death.

Funeral services were conducted last Tuesday afternoon at the Staple funeral home in charge of Dr. Floyd L. Blewfield, pastor of the First Methodist church. The pallbearers were all nephews of the deceased: Roy Ballard, Arthur Ballard, Earl Ballard, Orville Ballard, Hugh Corbett and Ben Rainwater. Burial took place at the Oakwood cemetery.

Green Bay Trio Threats to Sweep Pro Grid Records

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Green Bay's Clark Hinkle, Cecil Isbell and Don Hutson, the trio which keeps the Packers in the National League title race, are threatening to make a clean sweep of statistical honors.

Isbell is the leading passer and third-ranking ground gainer. Hutson leads the point scorers and pass receivers and Hinkle is fourth among ground gainers, first in field goals, and second among scorers.

Official league statistics including games of Sunday show the Packers lead in everything except ground gained. The individual leader in this department is Clarence (Pug) Manders, Brooklyn veteran who has been first since the start. Manders has gained 186 yards in 37 tries, an average of 5.1. Frank Filchuck, Washington, is second with 150 yards. Isbell has 144 yards and Hinkle 143. Bill Ovenshott of the Chicago Bears has the best average, 7.5 yards a try, in 14 attempts, a total of 106 yards.

Completes 44 Passes
Isbell has completed 44 of 76 passes, gaining 549 yards. He has thrown four touchdown passes as have Sid Luckman and young Bussey of the Bears.

Hutson, the leading scorer with 32 points, has caught 23 passes for 301 yards giving him a wide edge over all other receivers.

Three of Hutson's passes went for touchdowns.
The longest field goal so far was 46 yards, kicked by Tiny Engstrom of Green Bay. The longest pass gain, Ray Mallouf to John Hall, Chicago Cards, covered 80 yards. The longest run from scrimmage was George McAfee's 59-yard jaunt for the Bears against the Cards Sunday.

Municipal League in Session in Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Officials of Illinois cities began registering today for the three-day 28th annual convention of the Illinois Municipal League.

The effect of national defense requirements upon the operation of municipal government will be one of the chief subjects of the meeting. Maury Maverick, former Texas congressman and recently appointed chief of the local government requirements branch of the federal Supply Priorities and Allocation Board, will address the delegates tomorrow.

A. D. McLarty, league secretary, said Maverick would announce appointment of an Illinois representative to aid municipalities in this state in obtaining priorities on materials required for public building and for operation of municipal utilities.

In the recent nation-wide drive for aluminum for war planes, approximately 14,000,000 pounds of aluminum has been contributed—edge over all other receivers.

The Myers team defeated the Knacks, 20 to 16, and the totals for the losers were made up of the following scores: Robert Bovey won 4 and lost 4; Ward Smith won 8 and lost 2; Nielson won 2 and lost 5; Cron won 2 and lost 4; Reilly won 4 and lost 1.

The league opened at 7 o'clock last night with the match between Covett's and Vaile's and the two teams split the series, 18 to 18.

Figuring in the Cloisters' totals were: Joe Hall who won 5 and lost 4; Ben Roe who also won 5 and lost 4; Minnihan who won 2 and lost 6; Graydon Moll who won 2 and lost 4; Warren Badger who won four and lost none. For Covett's: Lyle Melvin won 8 and lost 1; Eustace Shaw won 8 and lost 1; Hammill won 2 and lost 5; Harmon won none and lost 6; Don Bowers won none and lost 4.

RESULTS
Covett's vs. Vaile's: Melvin (C) won two of three games with Hall (V); Shaw (C) won two games from Hall (V); Hall (V) won two games from Hammill (C); Hall (V) won two games from Harmon (C).
Melvin (C) won two games from Roe (V); Shaw (C) won two of three games with Roe (V); Roe (V) won two games from Bowers (C).

By DICK MEAD

(Telegraph Special Service)
Paw Paw, Oct. 15.—The Flanchermen of Paw Paw high school finished the fall softball schedule with a fine record of six wins in eight starts. With the team built around veterans, the local squad was one of the best in recent years. Fine spirit, hard hitting, and great pitching, put the Paw Paw team in the winning side of the ledger on all but two occasions.

St. Mary's Team Must Earn Dough or Lose Football

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Analogous to the heroine striving to keep the mortgage from sweeping away her old pap-py's all, the footballers of St. Mary's are figuratively ready to die for their college.

They must earn $25,000 this season or intercollegiate athletics will become only a fond memory at the school.

They haven't done so well thus far but a team that scores 116 points on four opponents—Southern Oklahoma, Southeastern Louisiana, Jefferson Barracks and Eastern New Mexico—and doesn't allow its goal line to be crossed is due to start clicking at the gate as well as on the gridiron.

Last year, after seven lean seasons, the colorful Mose Simms, who did everything on a grandiose scale, resigned and Lloyd Russell, former Baylor star, was hired as coach.

Underwrote Program

Local businessmen underwrote a $25,000 athletic program. Now all the team has to do is earn that in gate receipts and guarantees.

A flock of stars who had not made the scholastic grade at their colleges came to St. Mary's and Russell also obtained a dozen or so ex-schoolboy players from San Antonio. Then a few lads wandered in on the tide of publicity the Rattlers received last year.

The boys still travel in that elaborate double-decker bus introduced by Sims. And to pare expenses they use those old uniforms of red, white and blue. They're faded and streaked but the team in them looks like the best St. Mary's ever had.

Russell says he can score on any outfit in the country if his line gives the passers adequate protection.

But what he's worrying most about is scoring at the turnstiles.

Football Notes

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Getting your second wind as the football season heads for October's big games:

Earl Walsh, the former Notre Damer who wanders all over the country on scouting trips for Fordham, usually sees his own club in only one contest. That customarily is against New York university in the season's finale.

This year Coach James Crowley permitted Walsh to stay home and watch the Rams in their opener against Southern Methodist.

"Galloping Ghost" Takes a Bride

Harold "Red" Grange, Illinois famed half back and NEA Service, Evening Telegraph football expert, and his bride, the former Margaret Hazelburg of Sagola, Mich., an air line stewardess, smile happily in Chicago after their marriage at Crown Point, Ind.

Sports Roundup PURDUE MAY BE STUMBLING BLOCK FOR OHIO STATE

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
New York, Oct. 15.—(The Special News Service)—Have you a little bow looking for a football team? If you have, Perry E. Smith of Springfield, Mo., asks consideration for Springfield Teachers, a team that has won 17 games in a row over the past three years. ... page Satchel Paige—Mike Berry pitched and won four games on successive nights for the California Eagles club of Oakland last week. During the day he works in the shipyards. ... Reservations for the American Bowling Congress tournament at Columbus, O., had reached 3,780 up to the middle of last week. ... Eddie Goodfellow, whose idea of tact in a hockey game was to skate up to an opposing player and knock him flat, is serving as the Detroit Red Wings' diplomatic representative in Windsor, Ont., smoothing the way for the boys to cross the border.

Quote, unquote—
Covington McMillan, Clemson backfield coach: "Boys, we want you to give our passers so much protection that the officials will penalize us five yards for delaying the game."

Odds—And some ends—
Mickey Anderson, Southern California quarterback, had to join the Navy to get to play against Oregon last Saturday ... He would have been called for Army induction Friday if he hadn't signed up the day before with the naval reserve air forces ... Trying to outdo George Marshall of Washington, Dan Topping has hired Glenn Miller's orchestra to play between the halves of the Dodgers-Cardinals game Sunday. With Mrs. Topping (Sonja Henie) as a regular sideline attraction, all Dan has to do now is borrow the four bruises from Sonja's ice show and then inflict them on the opposition.

Today's guest star—
Dean Morse, St. Johnsbury (Vt.) Caledonian Record: "Ossie Solem of Syracuse, who had his center facing the backs instead of vice versa when snapping the ball, missed a bet by not having the backs reverse their positions, too, and take the ball between their legs. It certainly would have been more confusing, but probably only to Syracuse."

Tail tales—
Russ Murphy, who scouted Navy for Cornell, reported: "They're so good that they have two specialists who do nothing but kick points after touchdowns ... And those fellows have been so busy all season that they haven't had a chance to sit down on the bench" ... Lieut. Norman Fernig, the old Michigan stater who coaches the Fort Monmouth N.J. Army coach who lost a player because he flunked out ... Fort Monmouth houses the Army signal school ... Sign on the Marquee of a Portmouth (Va.) Theater: "Harmon of Michigan, football's greatest player" ... and in Ace Parker's home town, too.

Iowa, which took very little from the Wolverines a week ago and gave them everything except the seven points needed to win, will swing back into action this week against Wisconsin ... Badgers and Hawkeyes have met 18 times with Wisconsin the winner in 12 but Iowa was the victor in the last two.

Pittsburgh, which has amassed exactly zero points against the Big Ten teams it has met so far (Purdue and Michigan), next will face Minnesota, which has piled up 48 points in beating Washington and Illinois ... Illinois licking its wounds from last week's encounter with the Gophers, must face Drake University without Laverne Astroth, senior quarterback, who has an eye infection brought on by a cold.

Indiana points to an improving punning attack as a sign for optimism preparatory to Saturday's game with Nebraska of the Big Six ... the Hoosiers completed only six of 25 aerials against Detroit and Notre Dame, but rattled off 10 in 14 tries against Texas Christian last week ... Notre Dame asks to be excused if it isn't acting too worried over its next games—with Carnegie Tech and Illinois—but there are more important tasks to follow: Army and Navy and then Northwestern, with Southern California closing the card.

Almost 31,000 miles of lighted, operated airways now constitute the federal network and another 2000 miles of airways are under construction.

They go into their game with Minnesota Saturday without having scored a single point in 1941.

MYERS & NOLAN MAINTAIN LEAD IN BOWLING LOOP

BUICK BUILDS
FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building Pratt & Whitney valve-in-head aircraft engines for defense use.

POISED here as if for take-off is the gorgeous new creation which is the Buick SUPER for 1942.

It is, as you see, entirely new and fresh in line and aspect—low and sweeping, clean of contour, solid as a combat car but graceful as a plane.

It is more than that, for here in durable metal is living proof that an old American tenet still holds true—you can do it if you try!

We had access to no materials in the building of this car that are not available to every other car builder.
